SELECT SONGS

No. 7

The Song of a Spirit,

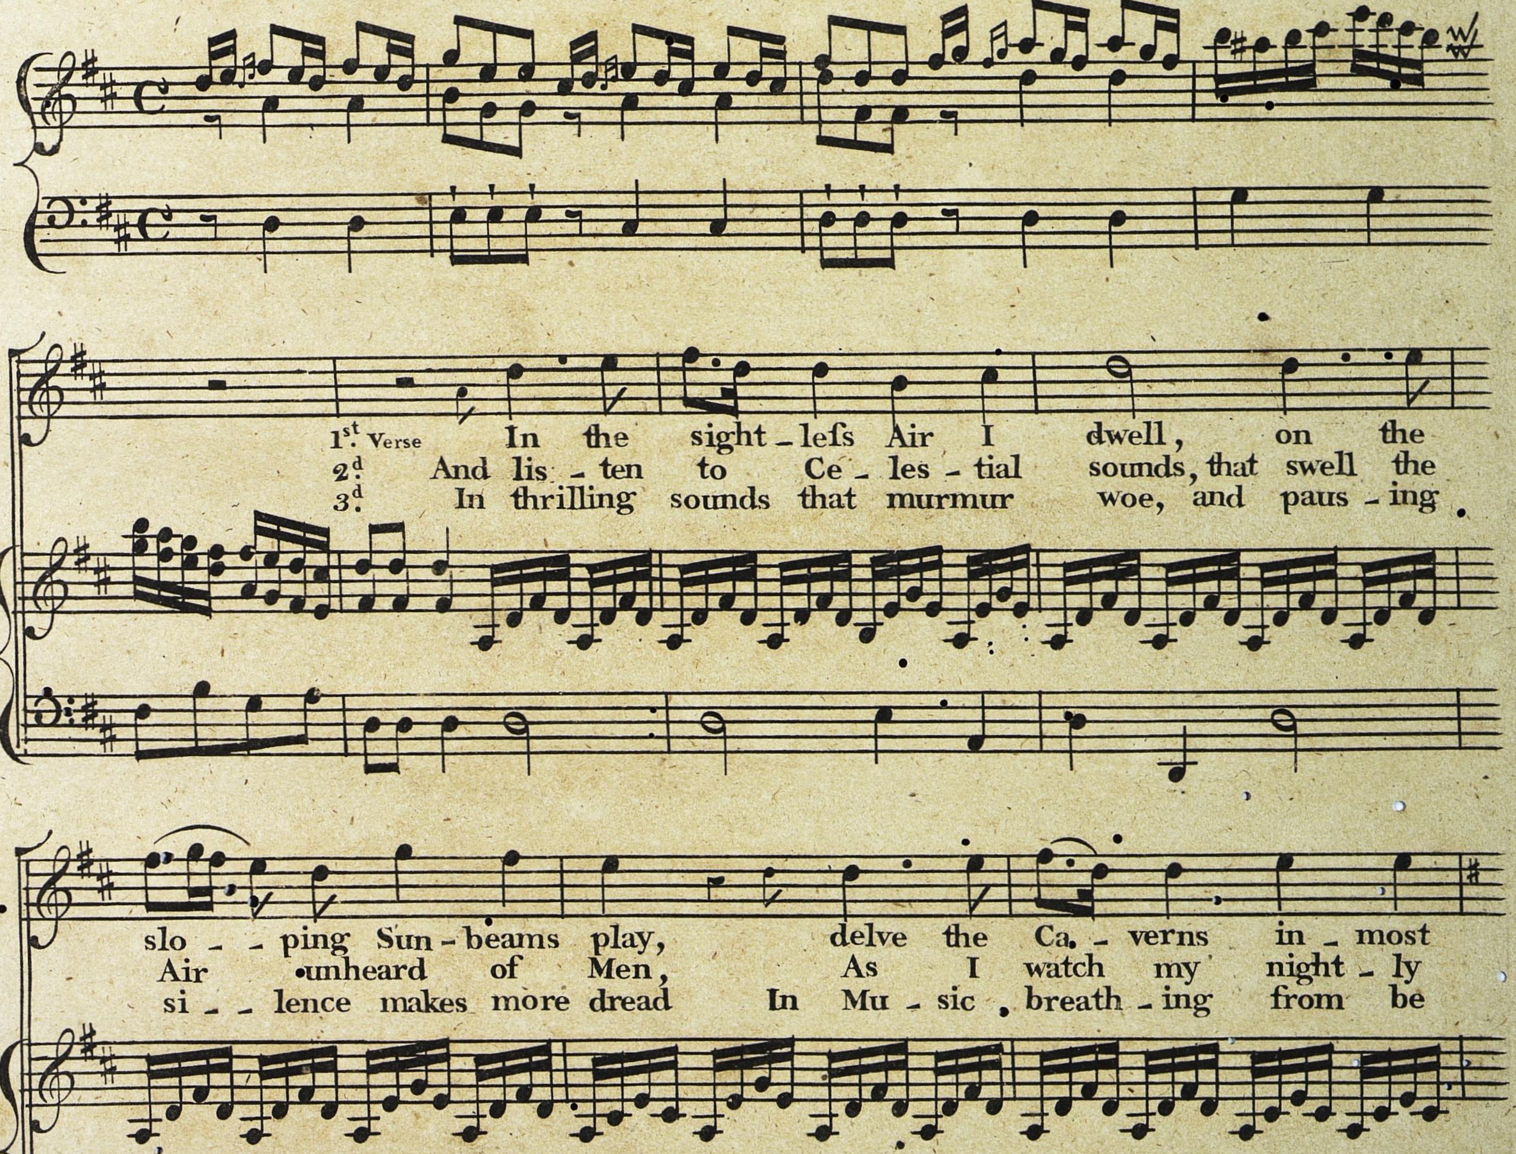
Written by Mrs. Radcliffe.

THE MUSIC Composed by JOHN PERCY.

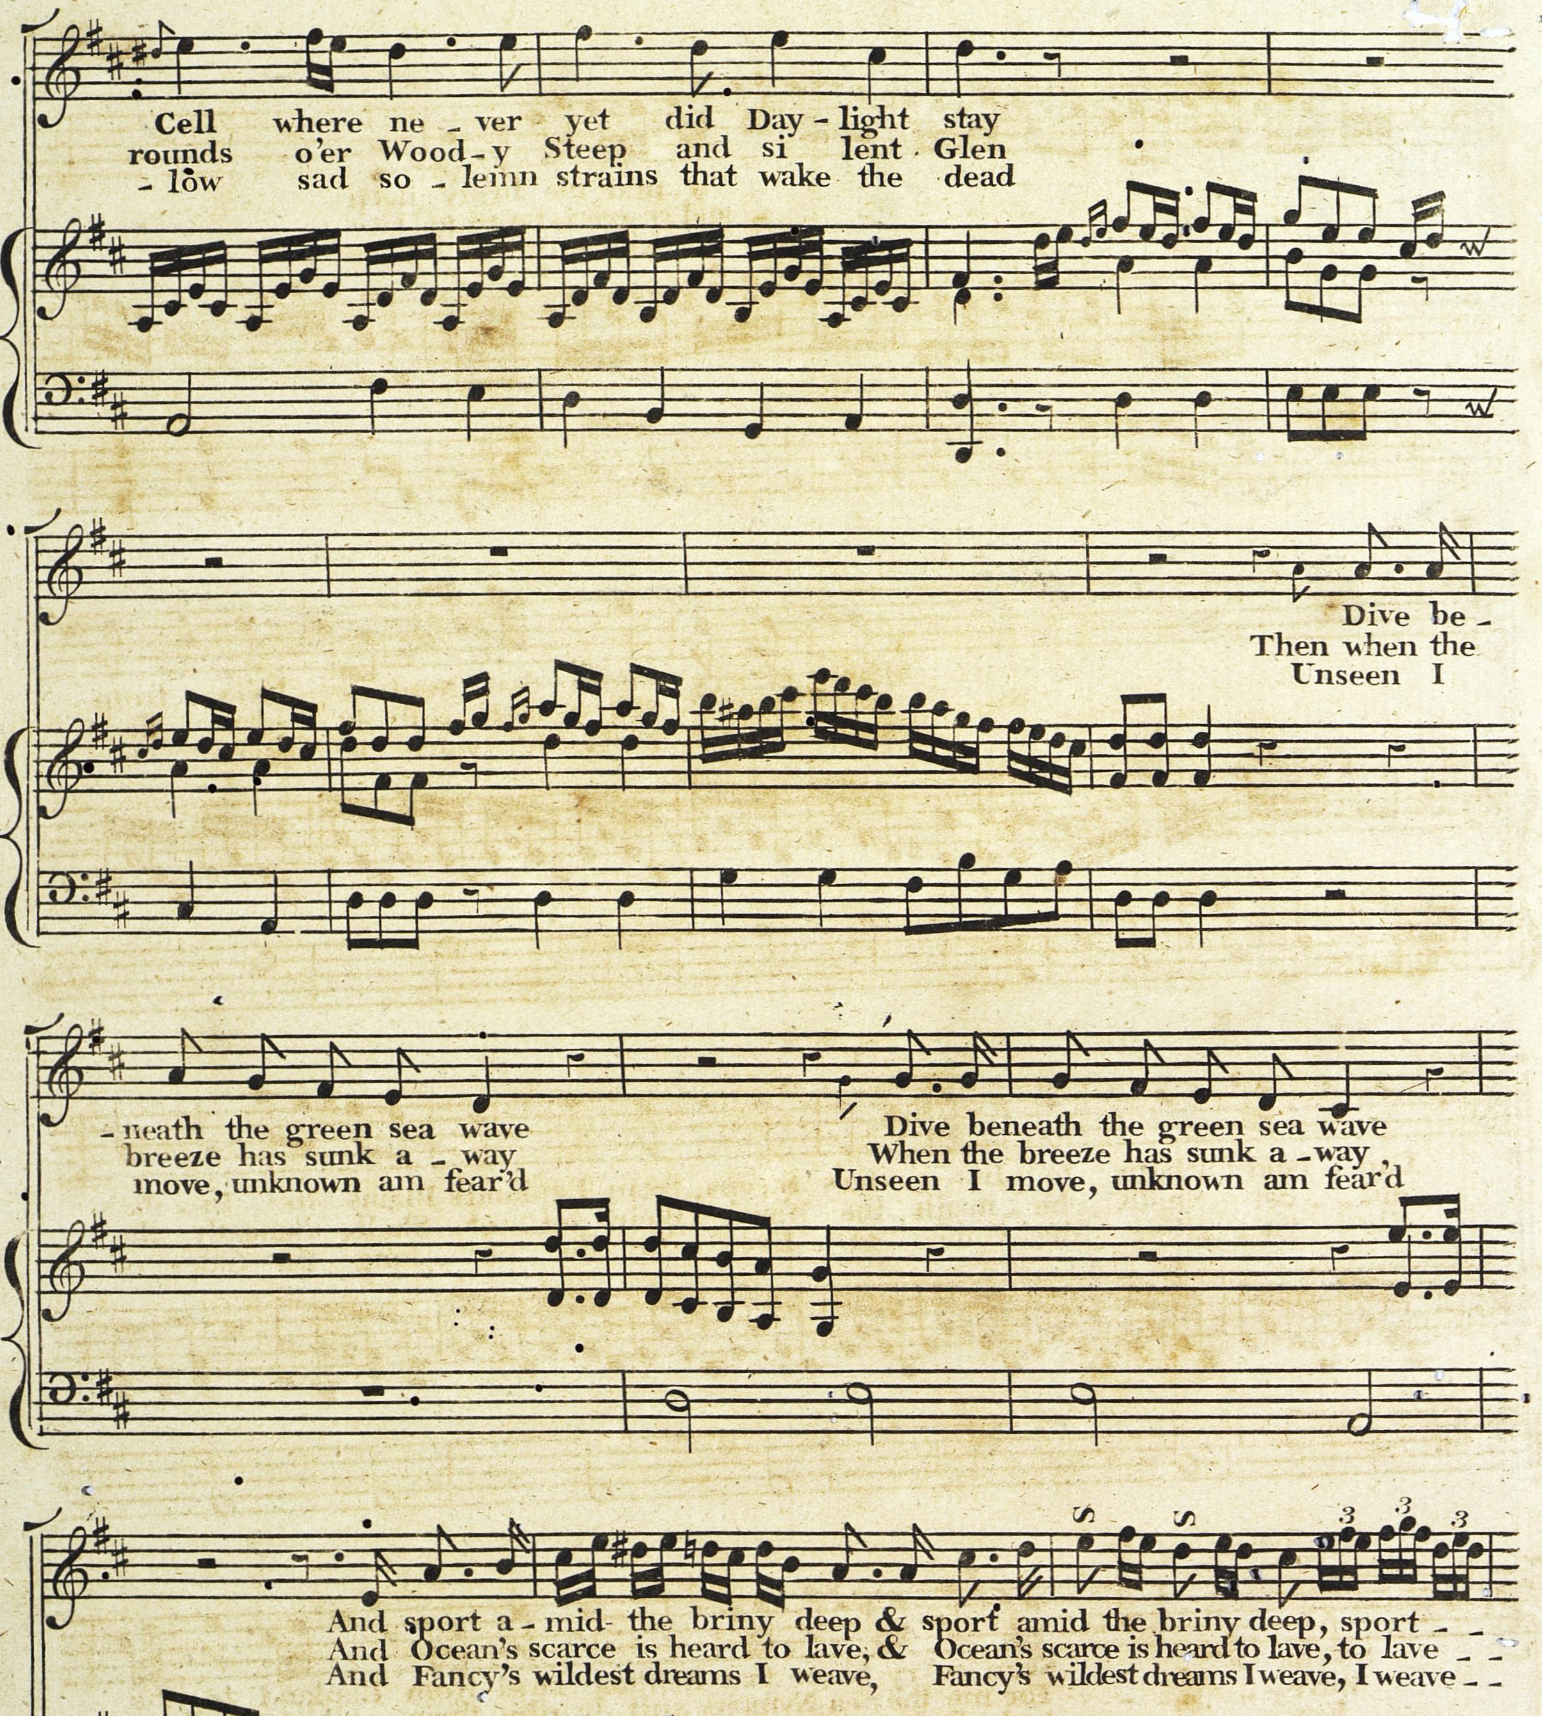
and most respectfully inscribed to

MISS DUNCOMB.

Price 1s. 6d.



Printed by the Author No. 13 Tavistock Street Bedford Square



Cell where ne - ver yet did Day - light stay rounds o'er Wood - y Steep and si lent Glen
- low sad so - lemn strains that wake the dead Dive be - Then when the Unseen I
- neath the green sea wave
breeze has sunk a - way
move, unknown am fear'd Dive beneath the green sea wave
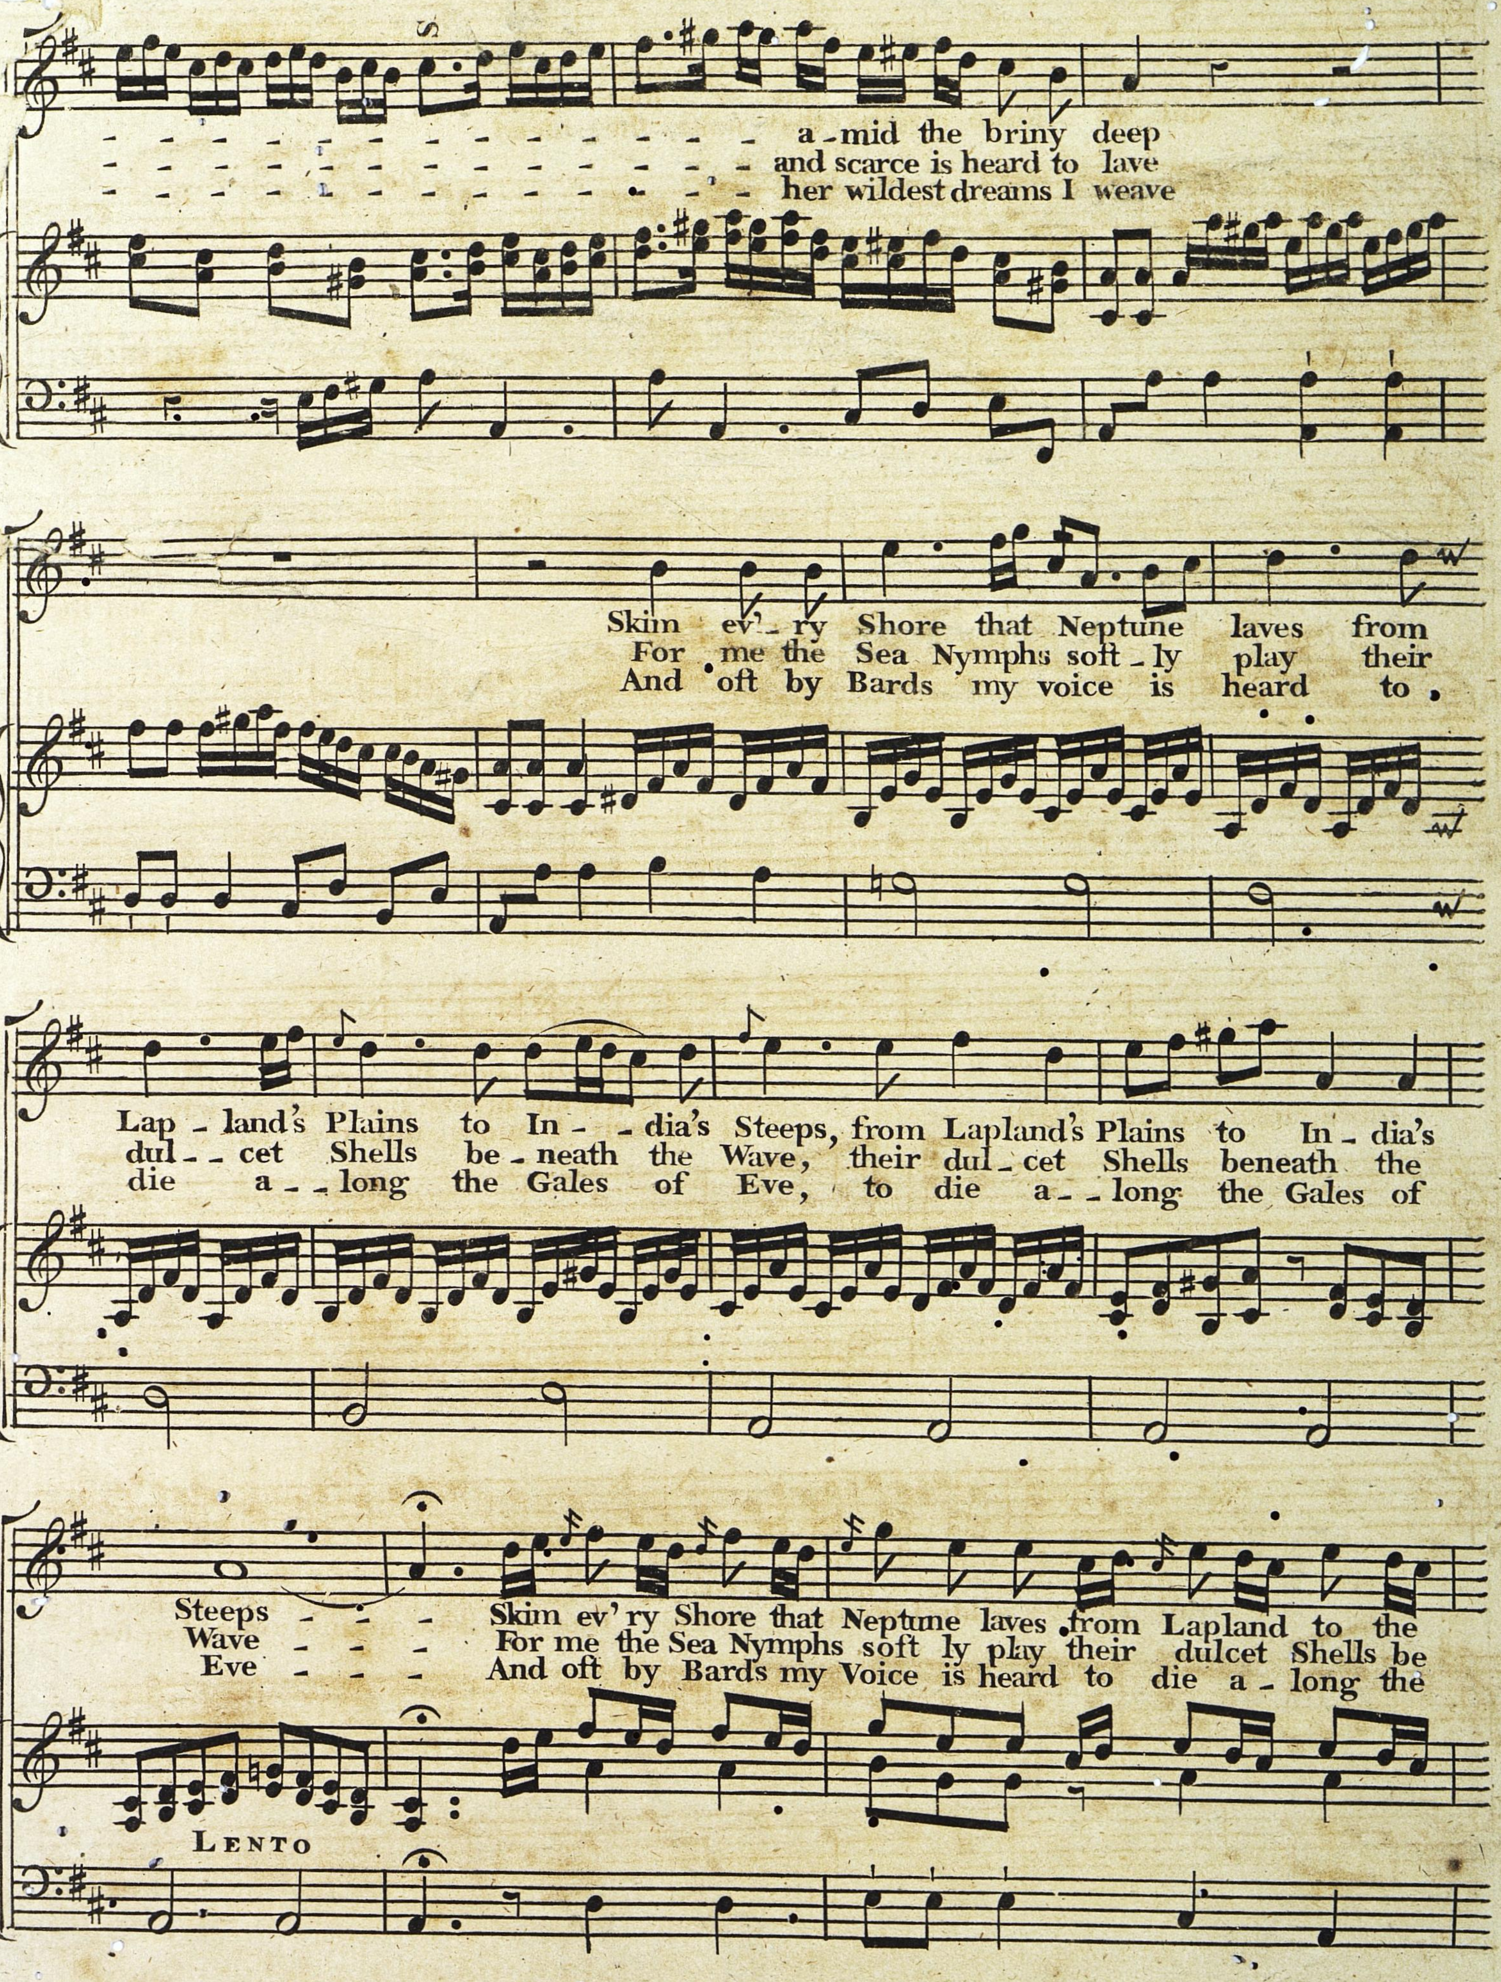
When the breeze has sunk a - way
Unseen I move, unknown am fear'd
And sport a - mid- the briny deep & sport amid the briny deep, sport - -
And Ocean's scarce is heard to lave, & Ocean's scarce is heard to lave, to lave - -
And Fancy's wildest dreams I weave, Fancy's wildest dreams I weave, I weave - -



- - - - - - - - - - - - - - - - a - mid the briny deep
- - - - - - - - - - - - - - - - and scarce is heard to lave
- - - - - - - - - - - - - - - - her wildest dreams I weave Skim ev' - ry Shore that Neptune laves from For me the Sea Nymphs soft - ly play their And oft by Bards my voice is heard to Lap - land's Plains to In - dia's Steeps, from Lapland's Plains to In - dia's dul - - cet Shells be - neath the Wave, their dul - cet Shells beneath the die a - - long the Gales of Eve, to die a - long the Gales of Steeps - - - Skim ev' ry Shore that Neptune laves from Lapland to the Wave - - - For me the Sea Nymphs soft ly play their dulcet Shells be Eve - - - And oft by Bards my Voice is heard to die a - long the Lento

India's Steeps from Lapland's Plains to In _ dia's Steeps _ neath the Wave their dul _ cet Shells be _ neath the Wave Gales of Eve to die a _ _ long the Gales of Eve Dive beneath the green Sea wave and sport amid the briny deep, skim Then when the breeze has sunk a _ way, and Ocean scarce is heard to lave, for Unseen I move, unknown am fear'd, & Fancy's wildest dreams I weave, and ev' ry Shore that Neptune laves from Laplands Plains to India's Steep. me the Sea Nymphs softly play their dulcet Shells beneath the Wave.
oft by Bards my voice is heard to die a _ long the Gales of Eve.
CORNI